🚀 Benefits

For the facilitator   Develop new approaches and solutions that can be integrated into professional projects and practices.

For the participant   Embrace new perspectives.

In this interactive activity, participants are divided into teams which tackle a topic through a series of related issues. Each team takes it in turn to deal with each issue, listing as many possible solutions as possible. The teams do not have access to the lists drawn up by the previous teams until the final round, at which point they analyse them and award points to rank the solutions. At the end, a restitution enables the group to calculate the points collected by the different teams and determine the winning one.

⋙ Sequence

5 min	Activity presentation	In plenary	The facilitator explains the objective and how the activity will be carried out. They present the topic to be explored. Teams are created and the space is organised so that only one issue is on each table.
5 min	Round 1	In groups	Each team tackles a different issue around a table, listing as many solutions as possible.
5 min	Round 2	In groups	The teams change tables and each one deals with a new problem, again listing as many solutions as possible, without looking at the list drawn up by the previous team.
5 min	Round 3	In groups	The process is repeated.
5 min	Round 4	In groups	The process is repeated.
5 min	Round 5 - Assessment	In groups	A final rotation takes place. This time, the teams analyse the different lists drawn up for one of the issues addressed. They identify the 4 solutions they feel are the most effective (they choose one solution per team) and then allocate a certain number of points to each of them to rank them in order of importance.
15 min	Overview & Results	In plenary	A presentation is then organised and the points scored for the different solutions proposed by the teams are calculated. The team with the most points wins.
